Cotton Hill Studios, Inc. for Hoobastank

(Albany, NY) Cotton Hill Studios, Inc., of Albany, working in conjunction with Audio 300 recorded the band Hoobastank at a special "backyard" concert and barbecue for the winner of a contest sponsored by Yahoo! Messenger earlier this year.

That event took place in the upstate New York town of Andes, and since the contest winner's yard is actually too small, it took place in the local school gym. Hoobastank's frontman Doug Robb shared that he enjoys any chance he gets to hang out on a personal level with the fans. Cotton Hill's Ace Parkhurst engineered the remote recording.
